"Hi Catherine, thank you so very much for your help and guidance, I feel utterly inspired! I never realised how much is out there for Katie to learn to become an independent skier."

- Mother of paraplegic daughter aged 5

"I totally support what you are doing with Ski 2 Freedom, it's a much needed resource for people with any disability who love the outdoors. This kind of info can be very difficult to find otherwise."

- Marina of wheelchairaccessstravel.com

"As an amputee I know first-hand how rewarding and empowering sporting activities such as skiing can be. I also know how intimidating they can be at first and how off-putting public perceptions of disability can be. By building confidence and learning new skills, young amputees are able to start on a journey that will empower them, not just in skiing, but throughout their lives."

- Jamie Andrew OBE, Ski 2 Freedom Patron

Empowering people affected by disability, additional needs and life-changing conditions with the benefits of year round mountain activities.

About Ski 2 Freedom

We are a unique link between mountain activities and those affected by a disability, life-challenging condition or additional needs, regardless of age, nationality, cultural or social background.

Our 'Ski 2 Freedom Information Resource' provides a global and comprehensive guide for winter sports, mountain activities and well-being, allowing barrier free access.

For over 150 years the Alps and mountains have been well-known for their therapeutic qualities.

We are striving to bring this reality closer and are breaking down barriers to enable everyone to benefit on an equal basis and at all levels in mountain activities.

Our key activities are:

The Communication and Advice Service: provides bespoke advice and information through direct contact, website and social media. The 'Ski 2 Freedom Information Resource' enables us to provide our beneficiaries with detailed guidance on every aspect of their journey to meet their dreams and aspirations – from where to go and how to experience their chosen activity, how to get there, where to stay with suitable access, which equipment to use and who is qualified to instruct them.

We also use this Information Resource to work with and advise on breakthrough technological developments, graduate theses and Social Tourism.

The Tobell Winter Sports Programme: Established with a legacy to ensure young people affected by disability, additional needs, or life-changing conditions have access to winter sports activities in order to develop their potential.

To fulfil our mission we need to:

- Raise awareness and facilitate the services we offer
- Promote and expand our Tobell Winter Sports Programme to enable young people with the desire to develop their potential through winter sports to have full access to those activities
